SYSTEMS ADMINISTRATION

Let Prescio help you set up and maintain your office networking systems including, but not limited to planning and assessment, design and architecture, implementation, and operation management.

Our team is trained and ready to assist you with managing and securing your critical software and hardware technology infrastructure. Prescio computer security specialists can audit your systems according to industry best practices.

We also design, deploy and maintain a wide variety of cloud computing configurations that allow for elastic scalability of your technical resources.

SYSTEMS ADMINISTRATION SERVICES

Computer Networking

Prescio assists both small and large business with computer networking setup and maintenance services. Prescio can help you set up and maintain your office networking system including, but not limited to planning and assessment, design and architecture, implementation, and operations management.

Server Maintenance

Prescio can save you valuable time with our expert systems maintenance and configuration services. Our team can manage all your mission critical software and hardware technology. By leveraging Prescio for your IT needs, you free up internal resources, lower operating costs, and increase the operating efficiency of your business!

Systems Security

Our computer security team can also audit your systems to keep them secure according to industry standards. We can work independently or collaboratively with your IT staff to ensure any deficiencies found during the audit are addressed effectively. Prescio provides secure system services to customers via the Internet, reducing the cost and need for specialized software.

Cloud Computing

Cloud computing lets businesses outsource server and storage resources to trusted third-party vendors with pay-as-you-go pricing. Prescio can help you choose the appropriate cloud computing vendor, reduce IT costs, design systems for your applications, and train your team to maintain the different systems and storage services.
